TEACHING EXPERIENCE

Undergraduate Teaching Assistant, University of Iowa Latin Department, Spring 2025

Assistant teaching CLSL:2002, Golden Age of Roman Poetry, which focuses on the work of Catullus, Virgil and Ovid under the supervision of Professor Adrienne Rose. By reading passages from the Aeneid, the Catullan corpus, and Metamorphoses students gain an understanding of scansion, poetic meters, and the culture of the Late Republic and Early Empire.

Latin Tutor, University of Iowa Latin Department, 2024-2025

Served as the Latin tutor for three courses with a total of four sections. This opportunity allowed me to help rising Latin students accomplish their goals in grammar comprehension, translation, and exam preparation. I developed strategies to meet each student's needs and became skilled in teaching multiple students at a time.

RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

Research Assistant, University of Iowa Art History Department, Spring 2024

Undergraduate research under Professor Robert Bork, focused on the connection between geometry and art and architecture throughout art history. Through adding and organizing content on Prof. Bork's site, Geometries of Creation, I became highly proficient in WordPress and strengthened my grasp on art historical concepts and trends.

Intern, American Academy in Rome, Fall 2023

Internship focused on cataloging, organizing, and investigating the Academy's collection of artifacts under the direction of curator Valentina Follo. Handling, photographing, and researching ancient artifacts developed my understanding of technical archaeological terminology and deepened my appreciation for studying material culture.
